

The Penpal Project --- Letters from overseas pen-pals

This year our students started sending Christmas cards and writing letters to the students in England. They are all very excited to get to know each other. Here are some of the letters and cards from our overseas pen-pals. The pen-pal project is beneficial to students because they can use English as an authentic medium to express their ideas and opinions to real audiences.

